or their 2012 wedding at his Texas ranch, Oscar winner Matthew McConaughey and TV hostess Camila Alves hosted guests in an elaborate series of air-conditioned luxury tents—possibly the most famous example of celebrity glamping to date. After all, when you count Reese Witherspoon, Meg Ryan and John Mellencamp as guests at your three-day rustic extravaganza, you've pretty much made the practice of glamorous camping into an A-List art form. It's no wonder singer Justin Bieber followed suit not long after, inviting then-girlfriend Selena Gomez to go glamping in Santa Cruz in January 2014—though they opted for a borrowed RV from Chris Brown rather than a true tent experience. ## THE RESORT AT PAWS UP, MONTANA

THE "CAMP" PART: Irarguably the Ur-glamp experience, The Resort at Paws Up provides dozens of private tents for rent, with access to fly-fishing, horseback riding and hot air ballooning.

THE "GLAM" PART: When we say tents, we don't mean L.L.Bean. These are state-of-the-art luxury tents with private, stone-paneled en suite bathrooms and beds made by The Last Best Bed. Each of the small camping areas also shares a dining hall that offers upscale cuisine, and fire pits for late-night marshmallow roasting.

WHO WOULD GO: Paws Up is a perfect getaway-from-the-getaway experience for Blue Bloods' patriarch Frank Reagan (Tom Selleck). pawsup.com

DUNTON HOT SPRINGS, COLORADO

THE "CAMP" PART: As you stay in your little valley of the San Juan Mountains, you'll feel almost like you're living in a rustic time gone by—and in a way, you are. The resort outside of Telluride is actually a restored ghost town, with access to healthy outdoor pursuits like mountain biking, kayaking, rock climbing and exploring a nearby Navajo reservation and natural hot springs.

THE "GLAM" PART: Never fear—even if there are invisible spirits in town, there's also wireless Internet, spa services and even videoconferencing. Plus, executive chef Max Schon fills the ancient saloon with local meats, vegetables and foraged mushrooms, plus highlights like free-range Colorado turkey and bison tenderloin.

WHO WOULD GO: Marty Deeks (Eric Christian Olsen) and Kensi Blye (Daniela Ruah) from NCIS: Los Angeles could use a romantic, ghost-believing adventure. duntonhotsprings.com

THE BAR W, MONTANA

THE "CAMP" PART: The Bar W is a working ranch, so as you get up in the morning and watch the hands start their day, you'll see them grooming and saddling the horses and prepping the rings for the day's rides. Fill the rest of your day with ranch activities like skeet shooting, wagon rides, rodeo games and square dancing.

THE "GLAM" PART: At the end of a day like that, you'll happily retreat to your personal dayvasetent, with a queen-size bed, fold-out futon, porch, kitchenette and private bath. And if you get there at the right time during the spring or fall, you can take advantage of a real three-day-long Western cattle drive.

WHO WOULD GO: A dude ranch trip is exactly the kind of active vacation that Under the Dome's James "Big Jim" Remise would be into. thebarw.com

COSTANOA LODGE, CALIFORNIA

THE "CAMP" PART: Overlooking an incredible stretch of rugged bluffs along the California coast, just east of Highway 1 outside of San Francisco, Costanoa Lodge offers access to splendid beaches, 30,000 acres of hikeable land and four state parks. Camping enthusiasts can stay in permanent tents with incredible, sunny views, plus hot tub and sauna access.

THE "GLAM" PART: If you dine at the Cascade Bar & Grill, you'll experience regional organic cuisine, local wines and sustainable seafood. And if you opt to use the Spa at Costanoa, you can choose from aromatherapy, deep tissue dry brush or even scalp massages.

WHO WOULD GO: Leonard (Johnny Galecki) and Penny (Kaley Cuoco-Sweeting) from The Big Bang Theory are only a few hours away in Pasadena, and the Costanoa is a perfect chance to go stargazing away from the lights of Los Angeles. costanoa.com

EL CAPITAN CANYON, CALIFORNIA

THE "CAMP" PART: For Southern Californians searching for an outdoor vacation option not far from home, Santa Barbara's El Capitan is a highly convenient choice. With the resort's 26 safari-style tents and 108 cedar cabins, there is plenty of space to get away by yourself, with your family or with a loved one. And when you're not cozying up at night, daytime offerings include summer concerts, lounging by the heated swimming pool and even those clichéd long walks on the beach.

THE "GLAM" PART: Each safari tent has beautiful willow beds, screened windows and heating for chilly nights, as well as outdoor amenities like grills, fire pits and picnic tables. Enjoy a hot stone massage or some deep footwork on your own, or share in a group yoga class to help you appreciate the serenity of the nature around you.

WHO WOULD GO: Abby (Paula Malcomson) from Ray Donovan needs a break, and what better place than at a yoga retreat just a convertible drive away? elcapitancanyon.com
